

Pet statistics. ASPCA. (n.d.). Retrieved March 1, 2023, from <https://www.asPCA.org/helping-people-pets/shelter-intake-and-surrender/pet-statistics>.

This information is use full because if people are interested in getting a cat or dog, they can look at this data and see where a big chunk of the population gets their pets from. If you are more for a breeder but you can't decide between a cat or dog, you can look and see that cats have a lower adoption rate from breeders. You can always just look at the chart and compare between the all the place you can get their animals and see which is mostly the best fit for you because maybe you didn't know finding a private party was truly and options for adopting a pet.

Context: Where Dogs and Cats are being adopted from

	Dogs	Cats
Animal Shelter/Humane Society	23%	31%
Friends/Relatives	20%	28%
Breeder	34%	3%
Stray	6%	27%
Private Party	12%	6%
Other	32%	39%

Source	How the animal was found
Dogs	Percent of dogs that came from that source
Cats	Percent of cats that came from that source